

As a public service facility, the Moline Public Library strives to maintain regular hours of service for the community.

In consultation with the Library Board President or other member of the Executive Committee, the Library Director, or in the absence of the Library Director, a staff person in charge, the Library may be closed when the weather becomes extreme or environmental or mechanical conditions are potentially hazardous to the public and library staff.

It is the Director's, or Director's designee's, responsibility to see that staff members and the media are properly notified of such decision.
